Ben Bennett Bushland Reserve was named for a Landsborough Shire counsellor who was instrumental in preserving the original 5 hectares as botanic gardens in 1969. Now 21 hectares of remnant bush is presented to visitors in three detailed brochures, available at the carpark information board, which are to be used on self-guided walks.

Lowland rainforest, open Eucalypt forest, heathland and Melaleuca woodland are the four vegetation communities described along the walks. Specially noted features are the giant Tallowwood, axeman's notch and Bribie Island Pines.
